OVERVIEW

Corsaro – the corsair – is much more than just a name. It's a promise that this yacht, with her pugnacious, irrepressible soul, will keep every time she rides the waves. Her majestic proportions combine harmoniously with her sporty design, with fluid, arrow-like lines.

Taking up where other legendary yachts have left off, the Riva 100' Corsaro forges ahead in the wake of her illustrious forebears, with a bewitching fusion of comfort and performance, technology and design, safety and style. The interior is a masterpiece within a masterpiece, set off in particular by the signature touch of the masters of Italian design.

The Riva 100 Corsaro features large glazed windows that punctuate the hull and superstructure on the main deck, offering panoramic views from the saloon. Below, an uninterrupted large hull window and portholes on both sides connect the cabins.

The central salon features a C-shaped sofa and plenty of space for entertaining, as well as a dining room that can seat 10 and a lobby aft that leads to the master suite.

The wide-body master suite has a central double bed, walk-in wardrobe and a writing desk/vanity table with panoramic views to starboard. With three double suites and a twin located below on the lower deck, the Riva 100 Corsaro can accommodate up to 10 guests. The crew quarters are located forward, with two crew cabins and a captain's cabin.

The Riva 100 Corsaro's superyacht sundeck offers breathtaking views and plenty of relaxing space, and in the aft of this area, Ferretti Group has fitted an al fresco dining area next to the cocktail bar.

MAIN DECK

The cockpit boasts a large outdoor table, a long sofa aft and three sophisticated Seax chairs by Dedon with armrests finished in wood. The structural sofas and sun pads on the exteriors are all covered with Mambo Pearl Light technical fabric in silver and platinum hues, which tastefully complement the metallic tones and the teak flooring. The interiors on the main deck perfectly express the unmistakable Riva style and are the result of a joint effort among Officina Italiana Design, the Product Strategy Committee and the Ferretti Group Engineering Department. Striped walnut wood appears alongside polished stainless-steel frames, matte enamel accents in white and Seal Brown, and generous expanses of dark brown leather cover the ceilings, bulwarks and some items of furniture, such as the custom-made coffee table in the lounge. Overlooking the latter is an L-shaped Andersen sofa in ecru by Minotti, adorned with dulce-coloured Hermès cashmere cushions. The two Brooklyn chairs by Poltrona Frau are in a scarlet hue. A splendid Flos table lamp rounds out the interior design, while the curtains covering the side windows and large glass aft door are by Zimmer & Rohde. A refined touch in the formal dining area is the magnificent Calacatta marble flooring, on top of which stands a large Acerbis International table with a glass top, surrounded by eight Fitzgerald chairs by Poltrona Frau in an attractive shade of cream. In the forward area, a generous storage cabinet in solid wood is set into the leather-lined wall. Beyond the lounge, a large starboard galley with dinette leads to the crew quarters. It is equipped with Miele appliances, as well as a Teppanyaki cooktop, a wine fridge and a GE side-by-side refrigerator. Access to the guest accommodation is from the portside lobby, which also features a day head with floors, washbasin and fittings crafted in Calacatta marble, dark enamel and wood. The wide-body owner's suite occupies the entire forward area and is finished in the same select materials as in the lounge: striped walnut wood, dark brown leather, white lacquer and polished stainless steel.

A stylish red leather Hermès chair is placed next to a vanity unit, which opens up to reveal a mirror and storage compartments. Adorning the central double bed are pillows, bedspread and coverlet by Ivano Redaelli, and a dulce-coloured Hermès cashmere cushion. The bed faces a mirrored wall with a TV screen. To port, two steps lead down to the full-beam bathroom dominated by a central double sink in Magic Brown marble and a large mirror set in a polished stainless-steel frame. The same marble is used for the floors, including the separate shower cubicle. The taps are by Elka and other bathroom accessories are by Pomd'Or.

The same decorative approach is found in the guest bathrooms, except that Amani Brown marble replaces the Magic Brown marble.

HELM STATION

A majestic, raised helm station opens up onto a broad view forward and to the sides. Steering and navigation systems are placed opposite the captain's ergonomic seat upholstered in black leather, behind which is a large dinette finished in leather in a beautiful shade of cognac for enjoying the cruising experience in luxurious comfort.

LOWER DECK

At the entrance to the main area below deck is a large lobby with a mirrored wall and ample storage compartments, which opens up onto the four guest cabins: two VIP cabins aft, a double cabin forward on the port side, and a twin cabin to starboard. The décor echoes that of the main deck with an elegant interplay of tones, textures and materials that includes several types of wood, surfaces in white enamel, polished stainless steel frames and trim, and plentiful dark brown leather. The beds are positioned opposite mirrored walls, into which a TV screen has been set. The careful attention paid to even the smallest details is evidenced by the decision to conceal several practical features: the top of the night tables, for example, slides forward to open and reveals a storage compartment with electrical outlets. The reading lamps from BCM boast a frame upholstered with leather. The soft furnishings are equally sophisticated: a saddle-shaped leather Hermès ottoman with a concealed storage compartment provides a place to sit in front of the vanity unit. An Ivano Redaelli bedspread and pillows add a decorative touch.

FLYBRIDGE

A hard top protects the central part of the panoramic deck, which features a dining area on the port side. The table is surrounded by an L-shaped built-in sofa and 3 Seax outdoor chairs by Dedon with wooden armrests. On the starboard side, a cocktail bar in teak is set into a polished stainless steel frame, where drinks are served to guests seated on two stools in teak and polished stainless steel. All the furniture in the panoramic cockpit is free-standing and designed by Paola Lenti, including two Sand lounge chairs and two Orlando sofas with moveable backrests, positioned in an L-shape, are complemented by six decorative cushions and three Strap aluminium exterior side tables. The latter feature a distinctive central handle made of rope, so they can be moved more easily. The finishing touches are added by silver and aquamarine Agadir floor and table lanterns.

OUTSIDE FORWARD AREA

The entire panoramic cockpit on the flybridge is protected, as is the forward lounge, by broad curtains in anthracite grey, supported by a carbon fibre frame. The private area in the deckhouse is furnished with a large central sunpad and boasts a C-shaped sofa and a custom-made ottoman, which also serves as a low-boy table with a teak tray for serving delicious aperitifs in absolute privacy.
