WELCOME ON BOARD

Built by Baglietto in 2004, AQUILA is a 41.4-metre aluminium motor yacht originally commissioned for fashion designer Roberto Cavalli. Her distinctive exterior by Tommaso Spadolini, striking dark hull and sleek profile give her an unmistakable presence on the water. Powered by twin 3,700 hp MTU engines with Kamewa waterjet propulsion, she reaches an impressive maximum speed of 26 knots.

MAIN DECK AFT

Following an extensive refit programme between 2022 and 2024, including a full repaint, major machinery overhauls and the completion of her RINA 20-year survey, AQUILA combines her original high-performance character with significant recent technical investment.

AQUILA's exterior spaces are designed to offer a variety of settings for relaxation and socialising. The flybridge features an outdoor dining area for up to 12 guests, complemented by a bar and comfortable lounge seating. Forward, an expansive sunbathing area and jacuzzi create a more private setting, while additional seating areas across the decks provide plenty of space to enjoy time outdoors.

INTERIORS

AQUILA's interiors present a striking contrast to her dark exterior, combining light finishes, polished surfaces and contemporary furnishings. The full-beam main saloon features opposing lounge seating, large windows and a dedicated dining area, while mirrored ceilings and decorative columns give the space a distinctive architectural character.

Beyond the main saloon, the upper deck cinema room provides a separate entertainment area, complete with an 86-inch Samsung screen. The interior refurbishment completed in 2021–2022 introduced a modern aesthetic throughout, while preserving the yacht's individual character.
